1. Solution providers to present the functionalities of their solutions to practitioners.
2. Push for the “co-creation” of security technology and capabilities innovations between practitioners and innovation suppliers.
3. Extensive interaction with academia and industry:
 - Bridge demand side and supply, leading to innovative solutions that fit operational needs.
 - Evaluate and assess innovations based on unbiased and transparent process.
 - Further engage practitioners' participation in security research.
4. Improve the visibility of the EU Security Market on the demand side and on the supply side and foster its competitiveness.
